reThink Everything

At a time when uncertainty reigns, we're turning to the backcountry more than ever. It's where we go to refuel our spirits, pursue happiness, and feel truly alive.

So, this winter, choose nature. Make the great outdoors your playground. Don't hunker down—venture out. And rethink everything, from your daily routine, family dinner, and seasonal traditions, to where you go to seek snow.

Backcountry is here to help you rethink how you make that spiritual appointment with nature. Gearheads are our community of outdoor experts, here to personally guide you. With thousands of hours spent in the backcountry, they can point you toward the perfect gear—and give you a packing list and adventure advice to boot.

Are you ready to rethink winter?

Products with the Goat are Built by Backcountry in partnership with our Gearheads.

reDiscover Gravity

> We lured sixth generation Montanan Maria Lovely (@marialovely) to put down some lines on Utah powder in the Cottonwoods Kit—a customer favorite, back by popular demand this year; she made the Wasatch's steep terrain look easy.

Maria is wearing the © Backcountry Cottonwoods GORE-TEX® Jacket [$399.95] and © Backcountry Cottonwoods GORE-TEX® Bibs [$349.95].

< Nothing stops Santiago Vega. Carving lines in deep pow is what this National Ability Center athlete does best. Check out what he's shredding next @svsanchago

reAssess the Commute

reInforce Avalanche Safety

We like to have fun, but safety remains one of our core missions. Whether you're venturing into resort-accessed backcountry or earning your turns in the wilderness, do it with the proper training, gear, and knowledge. The Utah Avalanche Center is one of the leading avy safety organizations in the country—find your local org at www.avalanche.org/us-avalanche-centers

reDefining the Outdoors

Backcountry started with an Olympic ski jumper, a ski bum, an avalanche beacon, and an idea. When we sold our first beacon out of a garage in the mountains of Utah, we became one of the first online outdoor retailers.

Our founders, Jim Holland and John Bresee believed adventure was for all, and 24 years later, we're still supplying athletes, modern explorers, and outdoor enthusiasts with gear, apparel, and expertise.

When we're not outfitting your next adventure, you'll find us playing in our backyard of Park City, Utah, testing out the latest gear and styles so we can help you thrive outside.

^ Revolutionize Personalized Service Gearheads are Backcountry's outdoor enthusiasts and gear gurus. They make sure you find boots that take you farther, the jacket you'll never want to be without, and the right ride for any adventure. Chris Purkey leads our community of Gearheads and gets out as much as they do. Chris and his team would love to hear about your next adventure and help you gear up—call a Gearhead at 855.720.5118.

Let Us Be Your Guide

We are obsessed with all things outdoors. From our founders and our buyers to our Gearheads, we are a herd of people who track down the best gear available, love discovering new outdoor brands to bring to you, and live to pursue our passions in the backcountry.

Our Gearheads—Backcountry’s team of outdoor experts—have spent countless hours outside and are passionate about the gear that gets them out there. Ready to get out there, too? Our Gearheads equip you with everything you need to get out, whether it’s building a custom bike, piecing together a backcountry setup, or planning a hut trip to get away from it all this winter.

Want some help gearing up for the season? Get complimentary guidance from a Gearhead by calling 855.720.5118.

^ Koly Swistak has spent a lifetime in the wild places of the Mountain West and believes in the transformative power of the outdoors. As a Gearhead, she follows her passions and gets customers outside doing what they love best.

^ Shayan Hart is Backcountry’s camp and fly fish buyer. She’s a Midwest native who ventured to Utah one winter and never moved back. When the snow falls, you’ll find her skiing and snowboarding during days on the mountain.

^ Jesse Ramirez grew up in Southern California, and moved to Utah to snowboard. After falling in love with the tranquility of the outdoors, he became a Gearhead and started camping, fly fishing, and mountain biking, too.

^ Clayton Otto is a sponsored mountain biker and Backcountry bike apparel buyer. He loves chasing the unknown in the desert, seeking new trails, faster speeds, and challenging his limits.
